

AD67

In spring of 67AD emperor NERO dispatched a middle-aged general called FLAVIUS VESPASIANUS (Vespasian) to deal with the potentially dangerous threat on the eastern frontier of the empire. Vespasian marched south from Syria while his eldest son, TITUS, came up from Egypt. Together their forces totalled some 60,000 men. Saline put up a token struggle, except for heroic resistance of the city of GAMLA, in GALANITIS.

By Spring of 66 - putting troops around Jerusalem.

AD 67

China

Two monks brought the faith to Luoyang around 67 AD, having entered China via the Silk Road.
"They brought statues & scriptures
on a white horse," Zhang said.

67 AD.

Nero decided he himself should participate in the chariot race at Olympia. He fell off his chariot but claimed victory anyway and the olive crown was presented to him by the brutal and terrified judges. (Not long afterwards, Nero was assassinated and the

and the results of the 67 olympics, including Nero's "victory" were voided.)

67-76

2nd Pope

St. Linus, Pope

Born at Volaterra Italy, he is mentioned by St. Paul in the 2nd letter to Timothy, and succeeded St. Peter in the year 67

67

Factions developed in Jerusalem: besides the Zealots; John of GISCALIA led a group, as did Simon bar Giora. These groups fought one another, as well as take vengeance on the moderates who wanted peace with Rome.

In 67 Nero placed the general VESPASIAN in charge of the problem, and he gathered numerous troops including those of his son Titus from Egypt, and moved toward Jerusalem.

Vespasian Conquered Galilee.
The Zealots (Jewish Sect)
take over in Jerusalem.

67AD

ST. LINUS, POPE

June 29, AD 67

---

Short Catechism of Church History say Peter was crucified with head downward.

Also say Paul died by the sword at Rome on the same day.

67AD

Vespasian given Command in the Jewish War and subdues Galilee. Josephus surrenders to him after the fall of JOTAPATA. Corbulo forced to commit suicide

67

Martyrdom of Paul
at Rome.

Oct 67

Accompanied by his son TITUS, General TITUS FLAVIUS VESPASIANUS, three of the best legions in the army, and numerous auxiliaries, he attacked Galilee from the north. The whole of Galilee was subdued by Oct 67. Among the crowds of prisoners marched Josephus, the commander-in-chief. He was put in chains and conveyed to HQ at Vespasian's orders. 6000 Jews went as stores to build the Corinth Canal

6748

Some authorities say St. Peter was martyred at Rome
in 67 AD.

67AD

The Epistle of St. Jude was written between 62AD & 67AD